A Whipping-Post Philanthropist.

whole time to philanthropy and would estab lish whipping-posts in every village, town

"Ajax" Wenld Be There, Too.

To the Editor of The Econina World:
In reply to your query what one would do of dollars, I will say for myself that I would

An Apostle of Politeness.

Would Go In for Prohibition.

As a daily reader of your esteemed and unrivalled paper. I beg to state that, should I ever be fortunate enough to get $1,000,000

into my possession, I would surely give three-

A Man of Business.

I would bet on Cleveland and Thurman knowing that I would win all the bets that I would make. Please put this in the best part of the paper so as to let all Republicans see what I want. I am willing to bet $100 even that Cleveland will get in, $100 even that he will carry Jersey, $100 that he will carry New York. This bet is open till the 5th of Nov.

Chas. Strathman,

th of Nov. Chas, Strathman, Bergeuline avenue, Union Hill, N. J.

Slightly Sarenstic.

If I were a millionaire I would own a fine residence. I would hold the most conspicu ous pew in a fashionable church. I would Help for the American Opera-

If I were a millionaire I should reinstate the American Opera Company, and, if Mr.

Thomas could be induced, would place him again at the head of it. But this country

For an Ingersell Union.

I should be mean enough to reserve on tenth of that million for my selfish purposes.

With the remainder I would duplicate

Cooper Union in this city or some other great centre of population, and I would dedi-cate it to our greatest and ablest apostle of humanity—the man who has the heart of a child and the head of a philosopher—Col. Robt. G. Ingersoll. Humanity seems always to wait until after their benefactors are dead before they do them honor. C. E. G.

I would first spend $750,000 in

One Hundred and Twenty-first street.

all the hostelries and plots of land in Coney holders would be able to vote according to A Hint to Real Millionaires.

to the Editor of The Evening World:

I would buy or build a factory in or near

New York City as a charitable enterprise. I would begin the shirtmaking business, and employ all poor girls and women that are at employ all poor girls and women that are at present working for starvation wages, and pay them good living wages. After that was established, I would, with your help, find other business in which they are paying girls and women the same kind of wages and remedy them in the same way. Some real millionaires might take a hint from the above, as it could easily be done and a great deal of good would result.

11 Centre street, Morristown, N. J.

I am a schoolgirl of twelve and visit the Public School No. 14, in Twenty-seventh street, near Third avenue. Should fortune smile on me, I would spend the million in ways unknown now even to myself. But I am sure that I would bestow $50,000 to erect a home for old school teachers, for they de-serve it fully after a laborious life of useful-ness. Further, I would spend $50,000 to erect a church for children, for the ministers of the big churches, or better of the churches, for the big people, use such high words that I and I suppose nearly all the children of my age don't understand it at all.

A Picture in Verse.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

A million dollars! Who would not strive
To seek what love such would hostows?
A recreation welcome, souch,
From vanquished griefs, regrets and woes;
And were this miraged picture mine,
The eath of duty would be clear—
Could I forget the world and deeds
Of those in life I hold most dear?

Should for time at my bloding come,
But, hastening with a will to aid,
I'd find substantial joys at home,
Ambition ne'er would bid me seek
To add unto my coundless store;
The voice of calm content would speak,
"You have enough—you want no more !"

I would not seek afar for fame

ELLA L. WISE.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

324 Thirtieth street.

Island, so that the present owners and lease

YANK ADAMS.

If I were a millionaire I would devote my

THE WORLD.

TUESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 6. SUBSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING EDITION

(Including Postage), PER YEAR......83.50. VOL, 29.....NO. 9,940

The Circulation of the SUNDAY WORLD during the month of October, 1888, was as follows :

Sunday, Oct. 7, 255,040 Copies. Sunday, Oct. 14, 257,860 Copies. Sunday, Oct. 21, 258,990 Copies. Sunday, Oct. 28, 260,030 Copies.

CIRCULATION BOOKS ALWAYS OPEN.

THE PLOT FOILED.

THE EVENING WORLD takes credit to itself for its timely and exclusive exposure yesterday of the Republican trick to impose on the Democratic electors, by sending round pasters with the name " READ BENEDICT " on them, and the words " please paste this over the name Gronge Brouter on the electoral ticket."

The intent was to make the voter believe that it was a correction of an error made in printing the ticket. THE EVENING WORLD'S warning was taken up by all the anti-Hanalson newspapers this morning, and it is now believed that the plot has been foiled.

An attempt to cheat a voter by false representations and tricks is as much an election fraud as illegal voting, and should be exposed and denounced by all good citizens and all honest journals, by whatever party it may be made, and it was part of a gigantic scheme to steal one or more electoral votes in each doubtful State.

INHUMAN CARELESSNESS.

There is an Industrial School in Brooklyn where poor women send their children to be cared for during the day, while they are working for a living. The school is conducted by the Children's Aid Society. It ought to be closed, or the society, which is a most excellent organization, ought to find more careful and humane persons to take charge of it.

Little Maggie Matheson, a six-year-old child, went to sleep in the basement of the building where the children are fed. She was locked up in the room. When her brother called for her he was told she had been sent home. The parents wan dered the streets all night, not thinking of seeking her at the school. In morning a son of the janitor heard her eries in the basement, released her in a terrified condition and almost helpless from cold an I hunger and put her into the streets. No one was sent with her to see that she got safely home

The Society will assuredly take care that no such affair occurs again at the school.

THE SECAUCUS MYSTERY.

The death of the poor woman MARTHA Krso in the Secaucus Meadows will not go uninvestigated despite the stupid obstinacy of the County Physician. District-Attorney WINFIELD has decided to take up the matter, and will institute an inquiry into the circumstances attending the mysterious case.

It would be a disgrace to the people of the county, and indeed of the whole State, if a suspected murder should be passed over without any effort to discover the guilty parties, or even to find out if a crime had been committed, simply because the victim happens to be poor and friendless. District-Attorney WINFIELD may be depended upon to make a thorough investigation and it is to be hoped that the whole truth will be elicited. It may be as well for the prosecuting officer to in quire whether the inaction of the local authorities is not an offense against the law.

FAIR CYNTHIA'S WOES.

Judge LAWRENCE is a doomed man, Doomed, that is, as far as the women who aspire to the suffrage are concerned. The Judge not only refused to issue a writ of mandamus requiring the Inspectors of Election of the district in which Mrs. CYNTHIA LEGNARD is registered to receive her vote today, but declared that women have no constitutional right to the ballot and hinted that the Inspectors who registered Mrs. LEONand's name are liable to criminal prosecu-

It is not surprising that the fair CYNTHIA rayes about the tyranny of the "fossilized generation of male brutes," whose opposition to woman suffrage is chronic. Yet we must find fault with her characterization of the species. To admit that they are "male brutes" is by implication to assert that there are such things as " female brutes " in existence, and this we positively deny.

CYNTHIA signifies her intention to carry her case to the Court of Appeals. But will she not encounter there more specimens of the "fossilized generation" she describes? She is, of course, indignant that a candidate for Mayor should be unable to vote. But then in this dilemma she is not alone, for the name of James J. Coogan will not be recorded on the poll-list to-day. So CYNTHIA has a partner in her grief.

For the first time, it is said, in the history of Sorosis a man was yesterday admitted to one of its receptions. Miss GERTRUDE GRESword was to sing, and she would not sing without being accompanied on the piano by AMERICO GORI, So GORI was allowed to gross the threshold, and everybody is asking

Mr. MAXWELL M. FISHER, of Detroit, is entitled to a divorce vinculo matrimonti. He proves that his wife is a chronic scold, and that on one occasion she "talked at him" from 9 o'clock at night until 3 the next morning. MAXWELL is entitled to be a lone FISHER after that.

The notorious millionaire divorce suit between Mr. and Mrs. Rawson, of Chicago, has been settled. As Mr. Rawson and his lawyer were both shot and narrowly escaped death during the proceedings, it is perhaps fortunate that a compromise has been reached.

OUR AUTOGRAPH COLLECTION.

W.G. Whiting WORLDLINGS.

A Brunswick, (Gs.) minister says that he once reseived two chickens as a fee for marrying a couple from the rural districts,

Dr. Clinton Locke, rector of Grace Church, in Chicago, is the oldest active dergyman in that city, having minustered to his present charge for thirty consecutive years. He is a New Yorker by birth and was graduated from Union College, a Schenectady, with high honors in the class of '49.

The Frances Cleveland Campaign Club, of Sycamore, Iti., is composed of fifty bright and pretty young ladies, who have been doing excellent work for the Democratic cause, while in Chicago last Saturday they created a sensation in the Sherma House by marching down the dining-room to their table in true military style.

The man at the head of the practical operation of the Pennsylvania Railroad is Frank Thompson, the first Vice-President, a tall, sleuder, fashionspassenger and freight business of the road, and to tions with other companies. He began his service with the road as an apprentice in the shops at

THE QUICK AND THE DEAD.

Bridgepart Engineer's Somnambullation Feat in Remembering Both.

IPPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I lifetime of jovial Engineer Bronson's first wife it was his custom, when dashing into town with his engine, to blow a long flourish on the whistle as a signal to his wife that his run was completed and he was all right.

Upon her death-bed Mrs. Bronson made him premise that as long as he remained an engineer on the read he would remember the grass plot on the cemetery where she was to be laid, and blow the whistle whenever he A short time ago Engineer Brenson mar-ried his second wife. He has faithfully kept his promise to the dead, and blown long dis-mal blasts whenever bassing the cemetery, afterwards saluting the quick by joyful toot-ings as he rushed into town, so that the living wife might prepare in season the evening wife might prepare in season the evening Yesterday, for the first time, the engineer ran by the cemetery forgetful of his promise. During the night, in fitful dreams, his for-gotten promise must have occurred to him. gotten promise must have occurred to him. He arose, and, mounting a switch engine, backed the machine over to the cemetery, blowing screeches upon the whistle. After thus fulfilling his promise he returned to bed unconscious of what he had done,

YOUNG MRS. BLAINE CONVALESCING.

She Will Now Recover, Beyond a Doubt. Mrs. Marie Blaine is rapidly convalescing, and is now to be regarded as entirely out of danger.

All doubts regarding her ultimate recovery are now dispelled.

An Indian Summer Explanation.

Miss Dashwood-1 remember distinctly hearing you say last Summer that you hated fishing.

Mr. Coniver—That was before our engagement, my dear, and I'd never used this kind of a tackle.

[Philadelphia Times New York 10 ter.]

William Waldorf Astor passes along unnoticed, Not one New Yorker in 10,000 could identify any Astor at sight. This member of the family is said to be the only one since the original John Jacob to earn a dollar. The rest have been quite content to carn a dollar. The rest have been quite content to handle their ever-increasing fortune. This exceptional one wrote a book, as you may remember. It was an historical story of Italy, and he gathered the material for it while he was United States Minister to that country. In receiving a salary for his diplomatic employment he broke the record of the Astors in the respect mentioned. But that did not involve much toll. It was the laborious authorship of a book and the reception of a few hundred dollars of profit derived from it that he may be credited with the first real earnings by an Astor since the founder of the family in that he may be credited with the first real earnings oy an Astor since the founder of the family in America dealt in fura. A friend of William Waldorf Astor tells me that the young millionaire was as proud of his publisher's eneck for $100 as any boy with his first trousers. The cash was at once expended in extra bindings for gift copies of his book to be sent to personal friends. The author had made up his mind that the publication should pay for itself, at least, and he had waited for these presentation volumes until money to pay for them should be yielded by bona fide sales of the work.

[From the Carteon.]
Little Mand and Uncle Jim in the parlor: Uncle Jim asks little Mand for a kiss, Little Maud-No, your wife is looking. Uncle Jim-Well, what of it?

Liule Maud-Mamma says alle is so ficalous at an't stay in her skin. Uncle Jim-Well, never mind. Give me a kiss Uncle Jim - well, never mind. Give me a kiss and I'll give you some candy.

Little Maud -- Pooh! I can get all the candy I want by not telling when papa kisses Aunt Fannic.

Aunt Fannie being Uncle Jim's wife, Uncle Jim makes no more love to little Mand's mother.

His Birthday Present to His Wife.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]
"To-morrow, Maria, will be your birthday, and I want to give you some appropriate present "Whatever your kind heart may suggest

John."

(Next day.) "Maria, you know how your poor back has suffered from pulling off my boots in the evening. It will not suffer any more, my love. See! I have brought you a nice new bootjack which I will use hereafter instead."

Infallible Cure for a Cold.

s moment you feel that you have taken cold, of th your NORE or your TEROAT will quickly inform get a bothle of HIERE'S REPECTORANT, As soon as notice a dryness or irritation in the threat (it won't cold) by TRENEAD, though it will often help it), in taking the KIPECTORANT, and we guarantee that BY ON TEN DORES will effect a PERFECT CUES, or the contents of one bothle will care any COLD, id almost everywhere. WM. B. RIEEE & SON, Druggiets and Manufacturing Chemisis, 353 6th ave., near 23d st. ...

how he got in. The real wonder is how he MILLIONAIRES

Despite Politics People Find Time to Tell What They Would Do

and ward in the United States for the benefit of drunkards and wife beaters, who should be severely flogged at the post for each and every offense. 504 Firth avenue, city. IF THEY WERE MILLIONAIRES.

Great Variety of Interesting Uses for Their Imagined Fortunes.

Briefly Stated To the Editor of The Evening World: If I was a millionaire I would have plenty of money. FRANK B. C.

A Generous Critic. To the Editor of The Evening World; If I had $1,000,000 I would give it all to THE EVENING WORLD, to get more solid news and write less about themselves. I. J.

A Modest Ambition.

I would see that my family was well cared for and then I would belong to some fife and drum corps of New York. G. W. S. First Avenue.

Would Supply Popular Literature. athe Effice of the Best Paper in the World : If I were worth a million of dollars I would pend it in writing out nice books and compositions for the people to read.
C. B. E. VALENTINE.

Seventy-fifth street.

fourths of it to a society which is just going A Ruce-Truck Reformer. To the Editor of the Evening World:

If I had a million dollars, I would spend to be created and whose aim is to exterminat all alcoholic beverages, &c. The rest of the above amount I would use in trying to get votes for our Prohibition candidate for the $950,000 in trying to bring race-horse people into the ways of the righteous. Passaic, N. J. "A Heavy Losen." Prosidential chair.

East Ninety-second street.

Wouldn't Re in a Hurry. to the Editor of The Evening World:

I should certainly bank up the whole amount at once, and continue my vocation, until any excitement the event might cause to my nerves had subsided. Crispanus.

And Contribute of Course.

If I had a million of good American dollars would advocate the building of colleges, spitals and other useful institutions. Yours. ADJUSTER.

Our Would-Be Competitor. To the Editor of the Evening World:

If I had "A Million Dollars" I would en ter into a competitive race with THE EVENter into a competitive race with the condition in W. J., Newark, N. J.

A Good Means of Culture.

tor of The Evening World: I would marry a good woman, buy a large tract of land and colonize it with poor families and have them all read THE EVENING WORLD as a means of culture. F. SMITH. 211 Grand avenue, Brooklyn.

A Mistaken Harrison Man. To the Editor of The Evening World:

I would bet the whole of my million on Harrison's election, and if I could get another million I would bet that you won't pub-lish this. Yours for Harrison, C. A. DE R., 26 Broad street. Inclined to Be a "Sport."

to the Editor of The Evening World:

If I were possessor of a million dollars I would buy a mansion on Fifth avenue, and then I would set out for fun. I would back Sullivan against Kilrain. I would attend every baseball game in the season, F. COTTRELL.

He Would Be Hanny Then.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

If I suddenly became an heir to a million, I would try to find the young girl who gave a recitation, accompanied by music, at Schoo 77, and ask her to share it with me, and then I would be the happiest fellow on earth. Sixty-Second Street

A Moving Day Retormer.

To the Editor of The Evenine World:

Would Reform Cone
If I had one million I would try to get To the Editor of The Evening World. ected to the Legislature, and, succ would have a measure passed regulating moving day. The 1st of May is very inappro-priate, especially for retail business men, being right at the beginning of the busy sea-

Would Lessen the M. D's. To the Editor of The Evening World; I would become a philanthropist of the highest order. I would hunt up every young fellow I could find who intended to become doctor and set him up in another bus ne could make his bread and butter at. Brooklyn.

Would Pray for Guidance. To the Editor of The Evening World:

Should I ever become so unfortunate as to be the sole master of a million dollars, I would first of all fall down upon my knees and petition Supreme Wisdom for guidance to use it for the best interest of humanity. Brooklyn. N. B. J.

He Never Will Be Mlased

Answering your inquiry "What would I do if I were a millionaire?" I would depart at once for Germany, or anywhere, to get away from these low-down, rowdy and blustering people of your country.

J. Schmidt, East Fourteenth street.

Would Move to Utab.

to the Editor of The Evening World: If I had a million dollars I would quickly arrange to live somewhere where the right to have plurality of wives was recognized, marry about twenty of the most beautiful woman to be found, settle down in a luxurious home and enjoy life to the fullest.

Edward A. Groven.

A Green Flag Man.

To the Editor of The Evening World: If I were a millionaire this blessed minute I would, first of all, spend a goodly sum this coming election to defeat Mayor Hewitt. trusting to see the "Green Flag of Ireland" expanding to the breeze from the flagstaff of the City Hall on next St. Patrick's Day. T. I. C.

Ninety-seventh'street and First avenue.

An Admirer of Originality. To the Editor of The Evening World: ladmire your originality in having opened the question of what the fortunate possessor of a million would do with his wealth. I find that a majority of your correspondents would bestow largely in charity. This is surpris-ing to me. In this great Republic of ours, with its unbounded wealth, Charity! what for? Have we not Protection?

Simon Van Veen.

How He Would Divide it.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

I would appropriate one-half of the million for deserving charitable and educational institutions and purposes: one-quarter of it as a fund for the encouragement of American inventions and the support of penniles Anierican inventors, and the remaining quarter of a million I would use to complete a new railway enterprise in Ohio which I have in hand, and which, when operating, would be the best paying railway property for its miles in that State. Contractors. 114 West Eleventh street. BY STATE AUTHORITIES.

the Provisions of the New Electoral Lav Governing Such Cases-Congress Will Go Behind the Returns From Any State Only When Questions Arise Concerning Its

According to the law a contest involving a mestion in the case of Presidential electors would have to be determined by the State authorities.

if he were suddenly possessed of a million in such an event build a spacious insane asylum, wherein I would lock up each and every one of those fools who answer such and similar "fakes" propounded by The Evening World.

AJAX.

To the Editor of The Eventus World.

If I had a million dollars I would spend $500,000 in having ' Young America" trained to behave in "a half-way decent" manner to older people than themselves, and also teach them true politeness. For in no country on this globe are people to be found so rude as in the United States of America. Would it not be far better to reform the people than to reform the tariff?

A. A. G. utive of the State must also deliver to the electors the same certificate in triplicate.

If there has been any contest in the State the certificates in question must be transmitted to the Secretary of State as soon as practicable after the determination of such conest.
As soon as the Secretary of State of the

As soon as the Secretary of State of the United States has received each of those certificates he must publish them in full in some newspaper, and also transmit copies in full to the two houses of Congress.

The fourth section of the act provides for the counting of the electoral votes, and designates the manner in which the certificates must be opened and read before both houses of Congress.

All objections must be in writing, and an opportunity will be given for making them opportunity will be given for making them after each certificate is called by the presiding officer.

In the case of single returns from any

In the case of single returns from any state which have been properly certified, no such return shall be rejected; but when there are two or more conflicting returns, those votes, and those only, shall be counted which shall have been regularly given by the electors who are shown to have been appointed by the determination mentioned in section 2 of the act, if the determination mentioned in said section provided for shall have been made.

mentioned in said section provided for shall have been made.

But in case there shall arise the question of which of two or more of such State authorities determining what electors have been appointed is the lawful tribunal of such State, the votes regularly given of those electors, and those only, of such State shall be counted whose title as electors the two houses, acting separately, shall concurrently decide is supported by the decision of such State so authorized by its laws.

If the two houses disagree, then the votes of the electors whose appointment shall have been certified by the Executive of the State, under the seal thereof, shall be counted. spend my evenings at the club. I would spend my evenings at the club. I would avoid my relatives and forget kindnesses I received. I would look upon benefactors with scorn. I would will a pittance to my wife so long as she remained my widow and fancy I was among the list of Nov. 4.

BROOKLYN'S OFFICIAL SCORE.

Mayor Chapin is the tallest and most rigidly pote of the Brooklyn city officials. Alderman Macarty, President of the Board and metimes called the Assistant Mayor, is the hand-Alderman Michael J. Coffey is a well-to-do con tractor. He always wears a silk tile. Alderman Smith is the smallest Alderman, is in the minority, and is an aggressive parlimentarian, Supervisor John Y. McKane is fond of ginger renders scant justice to the one who has raised its heretofore (and perhaps still) verdant taste for music in its higher sense to the appreciation of a nobler standard.

The Americans, with all their alleged shrewdness, let golden bait slip through their fingers.

191 Clinton street, Brooklyn. Superintendent of Federal Buildings John Guilfoyle has had his picture taken for the first time. Supervisor B. Gallagher is always to be seen with a smile and a boutonniere. County Auditor Dan Lake's office is a veritable art gallery.

Deputy County Treasurer Adams is noted for his many charities.

Ex-Supervisor John L. Ryder, of Flatlands, oldest of the county fathers, is expected to return to the Board. Shore Inspector and Supervisor Cornell Ferguson is fond of a dog and gun.

Distric:-Attorney Ridgway is said to be the handsomest and one of the most able of criminal prosecutors in the country. Corporation Counsel Almet F. Jenks is a society man and smokes cigarettes.

Brooklyn's last Mayor. Theodore B. Willis, the local Republican leader. is a Supervisor and hardware dealer.

their consciences, without fear of ruining their business interests in case it were discovered they voted contrary to the King's orders. Next I would spend the balance in advocating the annexation of Coney Island to Brooklyn, so as to prevent any repetition of the disgraceful perversion of the secrecy and purity of the ballot that is now being enacted there.

First Place, Brooklyn, and was elected by labor men. Supervisor Garrett Cullen will not run again. William Blanchfield is a war veteran Superviso Stenographer Green is the most jovial of ex-

Police Commissioner Bell wears gold-rimmed glasses and is a baseball orank. Congressman Felix Campbell owns the Park Theatre, and is a brother to the Chief of Police.

Clarence. -Aw, by Jove! Cholly, where did get such-aw-bweastly cur? Choliy-Bawght him of-aw-blind feilah-lead

Circumstantial Evidence. [From the Curtoon.] Brother George—Ab, Mamie, Blifkins has been here this evening, I see, and he has been at it again.

Mamie—Been here? At what, pray?
Brother George—Been klasing you, here and ere, and there.
Mamie-You mean thing. You've been watching.

Brother George—No, I haven't. The powder is off in those localities, that's all. An Old Invention.

[From the Pittsburg Chronicle.] .. Just think of all these new inventions," began McSwilligen; " there's the telephone, the phonograph, the typewriter, the"-"On, that is as old as the invention of print-

"The type-righter. All the early printing of fices had proofreaders." Among the Foo.ball Players

The Ontario Field Club eleven beat the Rockland College team at Hackensack, 16 to 0. The Ætins Football team, reorganized, would receive challenges from any smatteur cleven. The English Rovers' Football Club would like to arrange a game for Thankagiving Day. W. H. Bratt, Secretary, 300 West One Hundred and Six-teenth street.

Pd seek to merit all the praise
That generosity could gain,
And well-earned joys should crown my days,
Without a frown to bresk the chain.*
But vann, vain rope! While grasping hands
The very shrines of Fortune woo,
I, like my kin, can only sing
Of all the good that I would do.
WALLACE. DRAISE NOT THE DAY BEFORE THE EVENING glow. You may press Warner's Log Cabin Sarsa-parilla for purifying the blood without danger, for it brings the glow of health at once. The largest bottle on

LORD SACKVILLE AT THE 'PHONE.

With Miss West as Transmitter, He Says He Will Not Make a Statement.

SEPECIAL TO THE WORLD. 1 Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—The report that Lord Sachville has prepared, or is preparing, a statement as a defense against the strictures of Secretary Bayard and the harsh criticisms of the newspapers, is denied by the party who is best able to confirm or deny it. Lord Sackville himself. His Lordship has not shown any disposition to come out of his retreat, or to say a single word, good, bad or indifferent to the American public on the subject during the past week. Ever since the afternoon of Tuesday last when he received Secretary Bayard's communica tion informing him that he was no longer persons Congress retains the right, under the new Electoral law, which was passed on Feb. 3. 1887, of going behind the regularly certified returns only in case of members elected to its own body when there is a contested seat. The statute provides that the determination by State law of a contest as to the appointment of electors shall be conclusive.

It shall be the duty of the Executive of each State, under this act, as soon as practicable after the appointment of electors in such State, to send to the Secretary of State of the United States, under the seal of the State, as certificate of the ascertainment of the electors appointed, setting torth the number of votes cast for each person. The Executive of the State must also deliver to the worn in forming him that he was no longer personal to only to talk to newspaper correspondents to keep all newspaper men at a distance.

To some days the porter would open the door and inform the inquiring newspaper man that Ilis Lordship has nothing to say. But latterly taey as a watch tower, and if it is a newspaper correspondent that calls he is allowed to ring and ring until he is alread and one only to talk to newspaper correspondents to keep all newspaper men at a distance.

It shall be the duty of the Executive of each State, under this act, as soon as practicable after the appointment of electors in such State, to send to the Secretary of State of the under the determination the state of the window of a room over the portice which the window of a room over the portice which he is allowed to ring and ring until he is alread and issued to the secretary of State of the United States, under the seal of the State, as certificate of the ascertainment of the United States, under the seal of the United States, under the seal of the United States, or each person. The Executive of the State is a contested to the new to say the porter would open the door and inform the inquiring newspaper man that Ilis Lordship has nothing to say. But latterly they are a watch tower, and if it is a news prompting.

Ween THE WORLD Bureau was connected by tele when The World Bureau was connected by telephone with the British Legation this evening, it was the pleasant voice of Miss West that gave the responsive "fiello there." She kindly informed lis Lordship who had rung him up, and he prompily told her to reply that he had nothing to say, but on being informed of a report that he was preparing for publication a statement in the nature of a reply to Secretary Bayard's published statement concerning him, Lord Sackville, through his daughter, replied distinctly that he was not preparing, had not prepared and did not intend to publish anything of the kind.

Those who are best aids to judge of what a man in Lord Sackville's predicament would do are decidedly of the opinion that he will not break the silence which he has thus far maintained until he leaves the shores of America behind him.

Appearances here judicate that the report from London, announcing the appointment of Second ondon, announcing the appointment of Second Secretary of Legation Herbert as char e d'affaires, was not correct. The State Department has no yet been advised in any way of any such appoint

MRS. PARNELL'S LAST WORDS.

Why She Calls on American Citizens to Vote for Cleveland.

Mrs. Parnell, the mother of Charles Stuart Parnell, who came across the line of parade to greet the President a week ago, in order that her actions, if not her very words, might show her sympathy with the Democratic cause, was yesterday much ruffied by hearing some foolish people say that Harrison was going to win. She dressed and went out to see for herself to win. She dressed and went out to see for herself how the land was lying. She came down to The World office and said:

"I am a Democrat by birth and the daughter of three generations of Democrats. My son is a Democrat my grandfather, Judge Tudor, was a Democrat, and his mother, my son's great-grandmother, a most remarkable woman, brought up her children in a thoroughly Democratte way.

"Mr. Cleveland has been the one who has dared to do in every reform as was right. He has dared to demand that every one sual vote as he will, and I am sure that under Democracy the ballot will be really free. To have acted differently from what he has done would have been for President Cleveland to have acted wrongly."

Acted wrongly."

Mrs. Parnell believes in equal rights and universal suffrage as well as in masculine Democracy, and begs American women to not only be Democrats in breadth of principle and en leavor themselves, but to so educate their sons and daughters.

THE CURE DENOUNCED THEM,

But a Blg Crowd Saw Coquelin and Hading in Montreal Last Night. PRPECIAL TO THE WORLD. I authorities have given the Coquelin-Hading company a free advertisement, second only to that which Sarah Berntardt got by being denounced from the altar. The advance sale of season ticke has been something phenomenal for Montreal, the better class of French Canadiacs, nearly all residents of St. James's Farish, being the bulk of the subscribers. Yesterday Abbe Rousselot, the curé of St. James, preached a sermon denouncing the Parisian company and beseeching his flock for their own sake and the sake of their families to stay away from the theatre. Speaking of the drama, the curé said that out of 100 French plays 100 were immoral and weakened the respect due to religion and virtue. When Sarah Bernhardt has been something phenomenal for Montreal, the 100 were immoral and weakened the respect due to religion and virtue. When Sarah Bernhardt was denounced by Curé Schleime, Mr. Abbey showed his appreciation of the value of the advertisement by sending $100 to the curé for charitable purposes. Bernhardt's receipts for four nights exceeded the anticipations of her manager by about $3,000. The effect of the sermon was not perceptible in keeping people sway, and the Academy to-night was packed to the doors.

A Story About a Big Campaign Check. night that before the expiration of banking hours National Park Bank, in this city, yesterday and deposited to the credit of the Republican State Committee of Indiana, and that the amount was transferred by telegraph to a bank in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Mr. V. Mumford Moore, the President of the National Park Hank, said last night that he had no knowledge of such a check naving been received at the bank, and he would most certainly have known if such a large amount had been deroested.

The President's Namesakes Thriving. [From the Alexandria (La.) Town Tulk.] Grover, Cleveland and Frances Folsom Sontag of Lecompte, this parish, are well and hearty. These triplets were born about nine months ago, when mention was made by Town Talk of their birth. On hionday Dr. Ira Bowman was in Alex. birta. On anonday Dr. Ira Bowman was it Alex-andria and presented us with a photograph of the triplets. The boys, Grover and Cleveland, are handsome children. They eat two cans of con-densed milk each day. The father of the triplets is about fifty-five years of age, the mother about

The Country Is Safe. What if the leaves that Autumn dyes Should fill the forest with their sighs And prophesies funereal Of what will follow if they fall! Nature is safe, the seasons pass; Men fall and wither with the grass; New buds replace the leaves that fell, The world moves on-and All is Well! What if the streams whose laughing flow

Will soon be buried 'neath the snow Should shrick prophetic agonies And general evils-if they freeze! The frost that chills their liquid play At Spring's sweet breath shall melt away: And when she taps her tinkling bell The world moves on-and All is Well! No matter who's elected-men

Will eat and drink and work again; The Nation on her giorious course The stars will shine, the breezes play, And new elections come to tell-The world moves on-and All is Well!

Notes of Labor. Railway porters have a brotherhood of 6,000 Knights of Labor at Findlay, O., are erecting a half for their own use. All the employees of the new cable lines at Pitta-burg are Knights of Labor.

burg are Knights of Labor.

The street-car men at Wheeling-who struck for a tweive-hour day have succeeded.

Tuesday, Nov. 13, is the date of the opening of the General Assembly of the Knights of Labor at Indiannells.

This is the regular meeting night of the Miscel-aneous Section, but it is nardly likely a quorum will be present because of the election. will be present because of the election.
It is said to be the intention of the leaders of the various organizations of railroad men to amaigamate the societies for protective purposes.
The delegates from District Assembly No. 3 to the Indianapolis Convention of the Ruights of tabor are Robert D. Laylon and John R. Boyle, Matt Smith, an ex-delegate, will accompany them.

A KEEN POLITICIAN'S VIEW.

THE RESULT OF TO-DAY'S CONTEST OUT-LINED BY THOMAS F. GILROY.

He Estimates That Cleveland's Plurality in This City Will Be from 60,000 to 70,000 -Sennter Reilly Likely to Poll the Biggest Vote on the Local Ticket. There are few men in the arena of to-day who better understand the great game of polities than Thomas F. Gilroy. Few men have litical organizations, the Society of Columbia, or Tammany, his utterances at this time have a peculiar and particular force. With these facts in his mind, a representative of THE EVENING WORLD sought out Mr.

'Mr. Gilroy, from your standpoint, how will we stand nationally on Nov. 6?" began

" Oh, I think there is no room for the shadow of a doubt of the triumph of Grover Cleveland and tariff reform in this State-Coogan's canvass's insignment, especially after the bolt of a part of the party whose candidate he is alleged to be. If he polls 20,000 votes he will do better than I expect. And his vote will come about equally from the other candidates."

"Who will poll the biggest vote on either tigher to the courter to the content of the content to the courter to the content to the courter to the courter to the content to the courter t ing their pay.

But the whole Tammany ticket will win.

But the whole Tammany ticket will win. for there will be no trading, and unless I mis-take. Cleveland and Hill will ride right along

He Discusses the Sackville and the Fisheries BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 5.-Mr. Gladstone arrived here to-day. The city was en fête in his honor, Mr. Gladstone will remain in Birmingham most of him with addresses.

Mr. Gladstone, in a speech, said the addresses fully recognized the fact that the Irish question was really the English, Scotch and Welsh question, and that until the question was settled the the question should be settled in a manner tending The Sackville incident, he said, was extremely enfortunate. It had resulted in the infliction of a erious slight and disparo gement upon England. He hoped the matter was susceptible of satisfactor;

A Prohibitionist's Castle.

to the Editor of The Evening World:
Should a million dollars come to me sudlenly one-half of it would certainly go to the National Prohibition party as the best way to down rum and secure a clean and non-sec-tional party. With the other half I would quit business, and, after travelling awhile, would settle down and study music. E. T., 124 East Tenth street, City.

them," in Chronicles I., 21 chap., 6th verse, You see Harrison and Morton were counted out centuries ago.

Hempstead, L. I. Violent in His Grief. The wife of Joseph Janowitch, of 20 Clinton came home and beat his wife. He was arrested and Justice Gorman, at Essex Market this morn-ing, sentenced him to the Workhouse for air months. Competing with Native Professionals. Norwitch Luskind, Joseph Hodes, Jones Levy and Jacob Felher, four boys, whose ages range

[From the Curtoon.] Uross the Cartoos.]
With fair Lucinda on me beaming,
I soon forget my present woes,
Such wendrous thoughts gothrough mestreamly
Such oneyancy my spirit shows;
I'd rather lose my band than pain her,
I'd suffer torture for her smile,
I would defy the world to gain her,
And deem it pleasure all the white,

"Tis true my wealth is not attested, sur Lucy knows that fassion's king, my shirt is frilled, my paper's created, My shore's a dainty, pointed thing. And so my life seems more than sunny, The fairy faunc opens wids, The fair Lucinds has the money, and I've got credit on my side.

To test the truth of the popular line, "One hundred doses one dollar," buy a bottle of Hood's Sarraparille and measure its contents. You will find it to hold 100 teaspoonfule. Now read the directions, and you will find that the average dose for persons of different ages is less than a teaspoonful. This is certainly conclusive and unanswerable evidence of the peculiar strength and common of Hood's Barraparille, it is noist by all druggists. $1: six for $5. Prepared only by O. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

a keener sense of public sentiment, and as a sachem of the most ancient of American po-

Gilroy a few days and "probed" his mind on the questions of the hour.

the reporter.

Cleveland and tarif reform in this state—and the country at large."

'Then you count upon Indiana as well as New York? Or do you think New Jersey and Connecticut will be Democratic?"

"Truthfully I speak only from my knowledge of this city, and base my opinion on the often reiterated statement by both sides that this State is the fighting ground and will decide the contest."

often reiterated statement by both sides that this State is the fighting ground and will decide the contest."

"But an alleged Democratic report says that Harrison will have 70,000 majority in the rural counties down to High Bridge!"

"So may it be. But this city will give Mr. Cleveland 60,000 to 65,000 plurality over Harrison. Cannot Kings. Queens, Suffolk and Richmond supply the rest?

"Do you think the three-cornered fight will be beneficial or detrimental to the National and State tickets?"

"It all hinges on the proposition that I have made. If the Counties will be as faithful as Tammany it will help both Cleveland and Hill, for it will bring out from 8,000 to 10,000 extra Democratic votes, and if all pull together that additional vote will be added to the majorities for Cleveland and Hill."

"And on the Mayoralty fight between Grant, Hewitt, Erhardt and Coogan what will be the result?

"I think Grant will be elected by a handsome plurality. Erhardt will be second. He is an excellent man, and if the Republican party stick to him, and I see no reason for doubting that they will, he will be second and Mr. Hewitt will, in that event, be third in the race.

"Coogan's canvass is insignificant. especially in the race.

"Coogan's canvass is insignificant, especially after the bolt of a part of the party whose

"Who will poll the biggest vote on either ticket in the contest?"

"Edward F. Reilly for County Clerk will run like wildfire on the east side, where everybody knows him. He will make a splendid race. He is recognized as the special champion of labor. He is held in the good regard of the letter-carriers particularly, for he was second only to Congressman Cox in promoting the bill at Washington lessening their hours of toil and increasing their pay.

GLADSTONE AT BIRMINGHAM.

he week and will make several speeches. On his arrival to-day he was driven to the Town Hall in a carriage drawn by four horses. A great crowd awaited him, and numerous deputations presented country could know neither solid peace nor effec-tual progress. He added that all efforts to solve fisheries question with the United States had been egregious failures. The Liberals did not wish to increase the difficulty of settling the matter in dispute, but they were desirous that by a judicious choice of persons and the suggestion of measures explanation. The incident ought to serve to mod erate a little the spirit of vaunting and bragging which is in vogue among many Tories.

A Political Prophecy. You will find the following prophecy, "But Levi and Benjamin counted he not among street, gave birth to a child yesterday which subsequently died. Joseph went off on a drunk and from fourteen to nineteen years, were held in $500 ban to-day by Justice Gorman at Eusex Market on charges of picking pockets on Grand street. The defendants are only six months in this country.

If You Wish